

BAHBlah!

BAHBlah! , a spinoff of the prestigious and hilarious BAHFest, held in the Western world, was a first of its kind event to be successfully carried out at Jadavpur University . As is the original event, this was a celebration of well-argued and thoroughly researched but completely incorrect scientific theories.

Sponsored : JU science club, JU ED Cell, Start up Cell

Venue and Date : It took place on 9 th March, 2018 at TEQIP-209.

Participants :

There were six initial submissions, out of which four lone wolves got selected. Each of them pitched a well articulated talk along with a visual presentation, that put forward their hypotheses, which were hysterically farcical. From harnessing the power of farts, to attributing scientific behaviour to heavy hair, the event witnessed a wide variety of ideas from very talented speakers. Needless to say, the event was a huge success. Everyone had a good laugh, along with being left under a thoughtful impression by the absurdity of the evening.

Judge :

The judge of the evening was Dr. Debangshu Dey , Assistant Professor of Electrical Engineering at Jadavpur University.

Flow:

The event was kickstarted by a keynote presentation by Rohini Das , a second year ETCE undergrad.

The audience comprised of students from different disciplines of Jadavpur University. The vast hall of TEQIP-209 was filled by more than half of its full capacity. The participants were marked according to the clarity of their presentation, the credibility of their nonsensical theories, and the quality of the pitch.

Winner

Vaishna Biswas and Chandramouli Sarkar were declared as joint winners of the event.
